GREENSBORO'S GAIN 6,718.

LARGEST MADE BY ANY TOWN IN NORTH CAROLINA.

Washington, Dec 11.—The population of certain places in North Carolina having a population of more than 2,000, but less than 25,00 is given below:

FOURTEEN INSURGENTS KILLED.

The Fifth Cavalry Engaged the Filipinos Sunday—The Philippine Commission Tinkering With the Tariff.

Manila, Dec. 11.—A detachment of the Fifth Cavalry had a fight with 100 insurgents south of Santa Cruz Sunday. The insurgents were chased for four miles. Fourteen of them were found dead. There were no American casualties. In addition to this engagement there had been several minor encounters between the troops and the insurrectionists,

The United States hospital ship Solace has arrived at Cavite from San Francisco. Her officers say the condition of affairs at the island of Guam has considerably improved. Dwellings are being restored and the people are resuming their occupations, but the crops are practically all destroyed, though there is no immediate want. The Solace left supplies there and the Arethusa has taden a considerable quantity of supplies to Guam from Cavite. The reports as to the number of deaths are about unchanged.

The United States Philippine commission discussed today the preliminaliminary portions of the tariff bill, in committee of the whole. Merchants made a few suggestions. The importers are watching for the decision of the Supreme Court on the Porto Rican tariff. They say that if it is decided to be unconstitutional they will claim a return of all duties paid on goods from the United States since the date of the Paris treaty and will also claim the return of port charges on vessels from the United States. Up to the present and pending a superseding law, Spanish duties have been levied, which impose import taxes on goods from the United States. Upwards of $5,000,000 have been accumulated in the Philippines from customs and other taxes.

AN IMPORTANT FIND.

Judge Schenck Speaks of the Caruthers Picture and the Work He Did.

To the Editor of The Telegram:

I am gratified to see that Col. Joseph M. Morehead, vice-President Guilford Battle Ground Company, has obtained and is now having the daguerrotype of Rev. Eli W. Caruthers, D. D., reproduced in larger type. It is perhaps the most important "find" made since the organization of the Guilford Battle Ground Company. The very "Caruthers" who inspired the history of that battle and had it reproduced in a truthful light before a future public He deserves the credit of fighting error, when he discovered it, and exposed it. Perhaps his inquiries may yet place his name in the roll of fame.

I earnestly hope that Doctor Peacock will now re-publish his sketch of the Life of Dr. Caruthers, who, like Bacon, "had no continuance," but after much criticism died in a strange land.

Truly,
D SCHENCK.

Rev. J. W. Bryan to Deliver an Address.

Bev. J. W. Bryan, Field Secretary of the North Carolina State Sunday School Association, will deliver an address on the work of the association next Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the First Baptist church. All persons interested in this work are urged to be present.

Bishop Morrison Here.

Bishop H C. Morrison was here this morning returning from holding conference in Newberne. He left on the vestibule for Atlanta, and will go from there to Little Rock, Ark., where he will dedicate a church Sunday.

Information Wanted.

The old story of the inhospitality of Greensboro to President Jefferson Davis' cabinet on its flight south, is revived in the December number of McClure's Magazine Will some of our old citizens who know furnish us with the facts in the case?

HE SHOT HIS FATHER.

George Gooch Shot His Father, Jubal Gooch, to Protect His Mother from Injury.

News and Observer.

Yesterday morning about 9 o'clock George Gooch, a young man just about grown, shot and perhaps fatally wounded his father, Jubal Gooch. The boy was brought here last night about dark and placed in jail, by Deputy Sheriff Riddick and Constable Scott. The shooting took place near New Hope church, about seven miles from Raleigh, in St. Matthews township.

From the accounts given of the affair, it seems that the wounded man, who was drunk, was beating his wife, and had knocked her down when he was shot by his son. There was a hog-killing at the Gooch home and a number of neighbors were present, assisting in the work. Gooch went in the house to ostensibly get a lard pail and, in a few moments the noise of a scuffle was heard. George Gooch went in the house, and almost immediately there was the report of a gun. When the neighbors ran in Jubal Gooch was lying on the floor, the entire charge of small shot, and the wadding having taken effect in the face and eyes. The boy went to a neighbor's but made no resistance when later in the day he was arrested. The wounded man was not moved until the arrival of a physician.

There were only two persons in the room, besides the principals, when the shot was fired. One of these was an old blind woman, who says she heard the noise of the scuffle, and Mrs. Gooch, who had been knocked down by her husband, and who says she did not hear the gun fire. Mrs. Gooch will arrive here this morning, and her testimony will be of paramount weight in the case.

It is said that Gooch, when drinking, is a very disagreeable character, and that he has not only beaten his wife frequently, but that he has attempted to shoot her. He is about 56 years old, and until five years ago lived in Raleigh, and he still owns some property here. He was a plasterer by trade. His son who shot him, is about 20 years old, and has always borne a fair reputation. Public sentiment, at present seems to be in his favor.

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO TODAY

WHEN THE SEAT OF GOVERNMENT WAS MOVED TO WASHINGTON.

All the Capital City is Taking Holiday—No Business Done by Congress—House and Senate Now in Joint Session a Speech Making.

By Wire to The Telegram.

Washington, Dec. 12.—The celebration of the Centennial of the establishment of the Government here began this morning with the finest winter weather. All the executive departments and all the principal places of business were closed for the day. Everything was given over to the holiday. Congress did not hold any business session but the House and Senate met in joint session in the hall of representation at three o'clock, when the members of both branches make speeches commemorative of the establishment of the seat of government in the District of Columbiam a hundred years ago.

Gen. Miles led the parade of notables up Pennsylvania Avenue, The Hall of Representatives is handsomely decorated. Senator Hoar was the principal speaker.

DISCUSSING THE CANAL TREATY.

Washington, Dec. 11.—The discussion of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty in the executive session of the Senate today consisted of questions and answers directed towards clearing up doubts concerning the effect of the treaty, generally regarding the rights of the United States in Central America. Those who spoke included Senators Foraker, Teller, Money, Mason, Spooner and Beveridge.

Senator Beveridge asked informatation as to the effect of the ratification of the pending agreement on three points: First, as to the provisions of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty relating to the acquisition of territory, whether that article still would be effect as far as it prohibits the United States from acquiring territory in Central America: secondly, in the case the Hay-Pauncefote treaty should be ratified by the United States and then accepted by, say 20 other nations, whether it could be modified without the consent of all the signatory powers; third, as to the right of hostile nations to station ships in the vicinity of the canal in case of its construction under the Hay-Pauncefote agreemeni. He said the second article of the Clayton-Bulwer agreement not only appeared to guarantee the netrality of the canal, but to prohibit fortifications and to stand in the way of either Great Britian or the United States acquiring territory in Central America.

Senator Lodge replied that in his opinion, under the pending treaty, the United States would be estopped from extending its domain into Central American territory, as the new negotiations did not abrogate that portion of the old treaty.

Senator Foraker expressed the opposite view, saying that unquestionably the United States could extend her dominion into that region if it so desired, just as England had done in taking possession of the Mosquito county. The Ohio Senator replied affirmatively to a question from Senator Mason as to whether the United States could acquire and annex a South American country, as we have annexed Hawaii, with the complete assent of the country coming under our protection; but on this point Senator Lodge differed. He said that under the new treaty we, as a nation, of course, would be allowed to secure and hold property in connection with the canal, but not to extend our territory in the region of the proposed waterway. He did not believe that under the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, even as it was proposed to amend it, there would be any authority to fortify the canal permanently. He did believe, however, that under that instrument as it was desired by the foreign committee to amend it there would be ample provision for the defense of the canal by the American people. Senator Lodge also agreed that if other powers should assent formally to the agreement between the United States and Great Britian the consent of all to the modification or abrogation of the treaty would be necessary.

When a woman drops a remark it is natural that her speech should be broken.

Mrs. Boyd Entertains the Card Club.

The social card club met yesterday afternoon with Mrs. James E. Boyd. Progressive hearts was played. Each guest was presented with a small heart as a souvenir of the occasion. The prize, a candelabra, was won by Miss Nan Mebane, while the booby, a basket of hon bons, was triumphatly carried off by Mrs. Cornelius Mebane. Among those present besides the members of the club were Mrs. Judge Hoke, Mrs. W. T. Gales, and Mrs. C. R. Brown.

Same Way Here.

Some of the towns are kicking about the census enumerators skipping so many people. Raleigh is kicking heavy. But that's nothing. They skipped 'em right along in Greensboro, too. There are five people connected with Holton's drug store who were not counted. At a boarding house seven people were at the table talking of the enumeration, when it was discovered that only three of the seven had been counted.

West Market's New Pastor Arrives.

Rev. S. B. Turrentine, D. D., the new pastor of West Market church, arrived today with his family from Charlotte. They were met at the station by a committee of the board of stewards and driven at once to the parsonage. Here they were greeted by a number of ladies of the congregation who had everything in readiness for their arrival. Dr. Turrentine will occupy the pulpit at West Market next Sunday.

A False Alarm.

Just before noon an alarm of fire was turned in from box 52 on Lee street. The fire companies were on hand quickly, but there was no fire to be put out. The wind blew the smoke from a chimney down to the roof of a house occupied by Mr. L W. Register, and some one thinking the roof on fire, turned in the alarm.

Death of Miss Jordan.

Miss Hettie Jordan, the sixteen-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Jordan, died this morning of typhoid fever. She was an attractive young lady and was loved by all who knew her. The funeral will take place from the family residence on Greene street tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Agree to the Proposition.

The property owners in the vicinity of the road across North Buffalo have agreed to the county commissioner's proposition to continue the graded road half a mile. They are to furnish the crushed rock and the county to do the grading and put it down.

AGUINALDO'S LIBERTY STATUE

VERY INTERESTING RELIC NOW IN GREENSBORO.

It is in Dr. Stockard's Collection of Curios from the Philippines—It Was Captured by the United States Forces in Aguinaldo's Headquarters More Than a Year Ago—Interesting Collection of Native Weapons.

Aguinaldo's statue of liberty is in Greensboro. It is a portable one, but it's genuine. It was captured at his headquarters by the Fourth United States Cavalry, and is now in the show window at Holton's drug store. Mention was made some days ago of the arrival at his home in this city of Dr. James K. Stockard, from the Philippine Islands. Dr. Stockard was attached to the Fourth Cavalry, which has seen some of the severest work of the war in the islands. He left Manila in October, and will return to his command early in the coming year. He leaves this afternoon to visit his father in Alamance. Dr. Stockard talks most interestingly of the Philippines. He has been a close observer while there, and has not forgotten what he saw. He brought back with him one of the finest collections of natives swords and daggers that, perhaps, have yet been brought to the United States. Most of them were captured from natives by the command to which Dr. Stockard belonged. This regiment was in the thickest of the service and as they were constantly in contact with the natives there was a fine opportunity to collect relics, as well as fight.

But by far the most interesting thing Dr. Stockard has is the statue spoken of above It is about 30 in hes high, is made of sandal wood, and represents a Filipino soldier with musket in one hand and with the other in waving his hat. On the front of the pedestal are these words: "Viva Filipinas Libre." On the back of the edestal are these words in Spanish: 'Dedicated by the author out of large consideration to the Honorable President of the Revolutionary Government, Sr. Amelio Aguinaldo Y' Famy, Sept, 25, 1898." The statue was captured with other belongings of Aguinaldo, when his force was driven out of the town of Talevara. Luzon, in November of last year. Here the "President" had about 750 men with his headquarters, and were routed by the United States soldiers. The statue fell into the hands of Col. Hayes, and by him was given to Dr. Stockard. The latter hauled it all over the northern part of the island for six months as he accompanied the troops. He knew that it would be a great curiosity if he could ever get it to the United States, and determined to swing on to it.

Several of the weapons that Dr. Stockard has have a history of their own. One belonged to a former captain in the army of General Pio del Pilar, who surrendered to the United States forces. After he surrendered his army largely turned bandits. This captain and his band became a terror to a certain section and there was great rejoicing of the people when he was killed by the troops. In the collection are about ten varieties of weapons. We shall describe some of them later. The most interesting weapon is the long heavy sword called the bolo. The tribe that uses it is called bolomen. The weapon is a vicious, bloody-looking thing. With it a native soldier can easily cut off an antagonists head at a stroke.

Snake Eater Killed by a Rattler.

Fort Valley, Ga., Dispatch.

Edward Swanson, of Hammond, Ind., advertised as a snake charmer and eater, while exhibiting here Saturday, was bittten by a huge rattler with seventeen rattles, and died yesterday.

The snake had been recently received from Florida, and it was guaranteed that its fangs were out, but this was a mistake. By public subscription a coffin was secured and the remains were interred here today. His mother, Mrs. Nellie Swanson, resides at Hammond, Ind. The young man was twenty-three years of age.

CHATS FROM THE CAPITOL.

SOME INCIDENTS FROM WASHINGTON LIFE.

Mr. Towne Looks the Senator, Though He Will be One But a Short Time—The President Dines Out—Champ Clark the Only One Who Reported Democratic Gains.

Washington Post, 11th.

Grosvenor, of Ohio, and Champ Clark, of Missouri, met yesterday for the first time since they engaged in a joint debate at the Mountain Lake Park.

"Hello, Champ!" said Grovenor. "How did you get through the campaign?"

"Splendidly," replied Clark. "I gained twenty-five pounds."

"Well," continued Grosvenor, "I congratulate you. That is the first Democratic gain of which I have heard."

The many social attentions shown former President Harrison during his week's visit came to an end last evening with a large dinner party by Justice Harlan. The distinguished men present to meet the former Chief Executive were headed by the present holder of that office, President McKinley, who rarely breaks through the well-established rule of accepting invitations only from the members of his Cabinet, which in the present administration is regarded entirely as one large family, his presence at Justice Harlan's being therefore all the greater compliment to his distinguished predecessor. Other guests were Chief Justice Fuller, the Secretary of the Interior, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, Justice Brewer, Justice Brown, Justice Shiras, Justice Gray, Justice White and Justice McKenna, all of the United States Supreme Court; Senator Frye, Senator Hoar, Senator Morgan, Senator Spooner, Senator Fairbanks, Gen. Breckenridge, ex-Secretary John W. Foster, Rev. Wallace Radcliffe, D D.; A. H. Snow and Mr. Richard D. Harlan.

A number of prominent men in Congress and otherwise in public life were gathered at Chamberlain's last evening, and the conversation turned to the ups and downs of politics. In the party were Private John Allen, of Mississipi, and Senator Shoup, of Idaho, both of whom have just concluded unsuccessful Senatorial canvasses of their respective States.

"What's the matter down in Mississippi and out in Idaho?" some one asked representative Allen, "that two such brilliant men as you and Shoup do not seem to be wanted in the Senate?"

"Well, now," drawled the Mississippian of famous wit, "Idaho is a long way off, and I can't tell you much about why Shoup got left; but I can tell you about Mississippi; I know all about it." Then, in a confidential whisper and with an air of imparting some startling secret, he added: "Mississippi isn't sending her best men to the Senate this year."

Towne, of Minnesota, looks every inch a Senator. He is of studious cast of countenance, which his spectacles serve to emphasize; he is dignified and quiet in demeanor and his gray hair makes him look older than he really is. He fits into the senatorial groove as if he had been made to order.

There was a little ripple in the Senate yesterday, before Towne was sworn in, because Governor Lind appointed him to serve until the legislature meets and his successor is elected and qualifies. Senator Chandler called attention to the fact that this last statement exceeded the langauge of the Constitution, which only allows an appointment to be effective until the legislature meets. Mr. Chandler did not, however, interpose any objection to the reception of the credentials, and Mr. Towne, escorted by Senator Nelson, took the oath of office. He was then conducted to a seat on the Democratic side, adjoining Senator Clay, of Georgia, where he received a cordial welcome from Senator Jones, of Arkansas, and other Democrats. He will be a Senator only until the first week in January, but once a Senator, always a Senator.

The joyous time now draweth nigh,
The time of turkey, pudding, pie;
Nor do we dream of after ills,
Of squill and pills and Christmas bills!

is where we stand in the lumber business. At the kicking spot, as it were, in regard to prices.

First comes the owner of the timber. He just woke up to the value of it and wants double last year's prices. Then the sawmill man. He has not been making a fortune and thinks now he should share a little in the general prosperity

They say to us: "We must have so much for our trees and work." After a while it is "up to you." Don't kick. You don't suppose we have nerve enough to put up prices unless they had first been put up on us. No, indeed. But prices are NOT high. They have been to low and are just now getting reasonable. Your children will be glad to build at double the price it now costs you. It is a trite, but true saying, if you want to build, "Now is the time."

And ours is the place to get the stuff.

HE MADE THE CONTRACT.

A Young Husband Who Was a Little Gay Brought Down.

Paterson, N. J., Special to New York Sun.

Hugh Krieg, a young married man, who resides at Hawthorne, a village three miles north of this city, appeared at Justice Key's office last night with a document which he desired to execute in the presence of the magistrate. Krieg told the Justice that his wife was a country girl and a church member with queer notions about some things. She had remonstrated with him about his desire to see a little of life, and three weeks ago when he came to this city and failed to return home that night she packed up and went back to her mother. She refused to return to him unless he signed an agreement which she wrote out herself. It reads as follows:

"To whom it may concern: In consideration of the fact that my wife allows me to return home to reside there and enjoy her companionship, love and care, I, Hugh Krieg, do hereby promise to begin anew, treat my wife properly and return home before 10 o'clock when not abroad on mutual engagements. I do promise to work for and support her as well as my position in life will allow. I do promise further to give her all my earnings, to attend prayer meeting, to abstain from intoxicating liquors, also from tobacco and cigars, and in future to conduct myself strictly in a decent, sober, orderly manner."

Krieg signed this, and when the justice had signed it Krieg carried it back to his wife.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 12.

THE TALE OF THE CENSUS.

While along with all the other towns of the county Greensboro's figures by the census announced today were not quite what we should have liked, still they are immensely gratifying, putting Greensboro, as they do, as the fifth town in actual population, given it a larger growth during the decade than any other place in the State, and a percentage of growth four times greater than that of any other of the leading towns of the State, The difference in the calculations made by home enumerators and the census people comes from the fact that the latter count only within the actual incorporation lines, and the former count the suburbs which are legitimately a part of the city. From the official figures published elsewhere, we take the following:

	1900	1890	Gain	P C
Asheville	14 694	10,235	4 459	43
Charlotte	18, 91	11.557	6.534	50
Greensboro	10,035	3.317	6,718	202
Durham	6 679	5.485	1,194	20
Raleigh	13.643	12,678	965	7
Wilmingt'n	21,976	20.056	920	4½
Winston	10,008	8,018	1,980	20

It will thus be seen Greensboro leads in the simple matter of gain of inhabitants, and in percentage of gain it is out of sight, being 202 per cent to Charlotte's 50 per cent., Asheville's 43 per cent., Winston's 20 per cent., Wilmington's 4½ per cent., and Raleigh's 7 per cent.

Greensboro, long and legitimately known as the Gate City, is in fact the yourg giant in point of growth and progress.

The Charlotte Observer says: "Many new mill settlements lie just over the limits, and Charlotte's real population is easily 25,000." By the same token Greensboro's is 20 000. So there you are. And one thing more: with the present rate of increase, Greensboro bids fair to soon be the leading town of North Carolina in point of actual population.

BUT WE WOULDN'T HAVE KNOWN IT.

Says the Winston Journal of Monday:

The Charlotte Observer of yesterday records a peculiar occurence illustrating the unreliability of circumstantial evidence.

Some time ago Levi Travis was found near Newton dead with many indications of murder. There was a fracture of skull, and a profusion of blood and his tongue protruded.

A negro was charged with the murder but discharged for lack of evidence. Supicion then pointed to one of the dead man's relatives.

Saturday the body was exhumed and an examination was made. The man had died from natural causes. Cancer han eaten away the bone, explaining the fracture, and into anartery, explaining the hemorrhage.

If "an outraged public" had taken the law into its own hands, what a horrible mistake, even crime it would have been.

What The Journal says is correct, except that nobody would have known that the horrible mistake had been made. The hanged parties would have continued to be hanged, the old man would never have been exhumed, and the people would have continued to believe that a crime had been punished when in fact none had been committed before the avenging mob came upon the scene.

EXPLANATION BY MR. CONNORS.

Gunpowder in Mr. McDonald's Pipe Only Singed His Shades—Begs Him to "Forget it."

New York Sun.

Chuck Connors was arrested on Sunday night, and John McDonald in whose pipe Connors is alleged to have put gunpowder, causing an explosion which led to a fight and resulted in the arrest of the pair, were arraigned in the Essex Market police court yesterday charged with disorderly conduct.

"I always thought this man Chuck Connors a myth," said Magistrate Cornell I am really pleased at the chance to see him. Let's hear about the trouble."

"I was aslape fornist the stove," said McDonal, "and they blackened me face, then Chuck, that I knew nigh onto twenty years, gave me a pipe that blew oop. I soaked him an' he ran away an' me after him."

"What have you got to say, Mr. Connors?" asked the Magistrate of Chuck.

"It's all a mistake, see?" said the pride of Chinatown. "I didn't do it, see?"

"Indade it was you, Chuck," interrupted McDonald.

"Aw, say, pull off, pull off! yer got clouds in yer sky," protested Chuck, and McDonald subsided.

"Now, Judge," continued Chuck, "dis bloke asks for a smoke, an' some guy hands him a pipe wid dynamite that went off an' smoked up his phiz"

"What do you mean by his phiz?" asked the Magistrate.

"Why, his mug," explained Connors, in surprise.

"Mug? What do you mean?" questioned the Magistrate.

"Why, den, his face of course. I tought it put out his lamps, but it only singed der shades." Chuck laughed at the remembrance. "I nearly split me face laughin' at him," he continued, "and der foist ting I knew, he planted a wallop on me neck dat nearly heaved out me grinders. I runs and he runs. It was so funny dat I didn't have the heart to swing on his kisser. Den we gets nailed, dat's all, see?"

"Yez know ye did it Chuck," put in McDonal.

"Aw, g'wan! Ferget it," replied Chuck. "Der whole trouble is dis, Judge. Dis guy here had his pots on an' he ain't wise to der bloke wot did it ter him. Dis is der foist time I was ever arrested an' everybody wot knows me knows I wouldn't hurt an old tarrier like me friend here."

McDonald made a violent effort to say something at this juncture but was choked with indignation.

"I guess I'll let you both go," said the Magistrate, and with a "t'ank you," Connors turned away.

Nobody Wants the Treaty.

Washington Post.

This Hay-Pauncefote convention is either an adminstration measure or it is nothing. It has not a single honest and conscientious friend in the Senate, and it is regarded with horror and indignation by nine-tenths of the thinking people in the land. If it were bolstered up by nothing more than Mr. Hay's personal solicitude, it would have been repudiated with scorn the day it reached the Senate. If it had no other backing now, it would be drowned in ridicule Nobody wants it. Nobody holds it in respect. We must look beyond Mr. Hay for the mysterious pressure exerted in its favor and for the malign influences which have caused Senators of the United States to daily with their consciences, to trim, to change, to stultify themselves!

CANCER

Sufferers from this horrible malady nearly always inherit it—not necessarily from the parents, but may be from some remote ancestor, for Cancer often runs through several generations. This deadly poison may lay dormant in the blood for years, or until you reach middle life, then the first little sore or ulcer makes its appearance—or a swollen gland in the breast, or some other part of the body, gives the first warning.

To cure Cancer thoroughly and permanently all the poisonous virus must be eliminated from the blood—every vestage of it driven out. This S. S. S. does, and is the only medicine that can reach deep-seated, obstinate blood troubles like this. When all the poison has been forced out of the system the Cancer heals, and the disease never returns.

Cancer begins often in a small way, as the following letter from Mrs. Shirer shows:

A small pimple came on my jaw about an inch below the ear on the left side of my face. It gave me no pain or inconvenience, and I should have forgotten about it had it not begun to inflame and itch; it would bleed a little, then scab over, but would not heal. This continued for some time, when my jaw began to swell, becoming very painful. The Cancer began to eat and spread, until it was as large as a half dollar, when I heard of S. S. S. and determined to give it a fair trial, and it was remarkable what a wonderful effect it had from the very beginning; the sore began to heal and after taking a few bottles disappeared entirely. This was two years ago; there are still no signs of the Cancer, and my general health continues good.—MRS. R. SHIRER, La Plata, Mo.

OTHER PEOPLE'S MONEY CAPTURED LYNCHBURG LAST NIGHT.

The Lynchburg News has the following to say of "Other People's Money," which appears at the Academy tonight:

"Other People's Money," as presented at the Opera House last evening was a decided success. An audience of fair size was present, and that it furnished great amusement was evidenced in the hearty laughter with which the sallies of wit and humor and the striking situations were greeted. Mr. Hennessy Leroyle, as Mr Hutchin Hopper, of the Chicago Board of Trade, was excruciatingly funny, and the mirth that fairly bubbled out of him was so contagious that his every word and action was received in a most appropriate manner. Mr. LeRoyle's support was exceptionally strong, and at every stage of his excellent characterization he was given by the members of his company such intelligent assistance that every feature of the performance was delightfully balanced and entirely effective Altogether, "Other People's Money" was one of the most enjoyable comedies that has been seen in Lynchburg for a long time, and the reputation which Mr. LeRoyle established will make him a welcome visitor here in years to come.

8161—Misses' Fancy Waist.
12, 14 and 16 years.

MISSES' FANCY WAIST. NO. 6161.

Dark red zibeline, black velvet, and cream colored silk are combined in this attractive waist. It is mounted on a glove-fitted lining, which closes in the center front, the lower portion being covered with a wide draped girdle, fastening on the left side. The back and fronts are adjusted with shoulder- and under-arm seams and arranged in box plaits running from the shoulder to the lower edge. These plaits are flatly pressed and graduated bands of velvet, with pointed ends, are applied, reaching about half way down on the jacket. From this point the plaits hang loosely, giving a becoming fullness at the lower edge, which is decorated with several rows of velvet ribbon. The neck is completed with a plain velvet collar. The front of the jacket is fastened invisibly under the plait at the left side.

There is comfortable fullness at the shoulders of the close-fitting two piece sleeves. They flare in a graceful bell at the lower edge, which is finished wtih rows of velvet ribbon. The full silk undersleeve is gathered on a tight wristband that is adjusted with a fancy button and buttonhole worked in the pointed end.

Covert, cheviot, Henrietta, Venetian or cloth are appropriate for this mode, with panne or fancy silk for trimming. The bands may be outlined with gold braid and small gold buttons applied on the pointed corners if a military effect is desired.

To make the waist for a miss fourteen years will require two yards of forty-four inch material, one yard of velvet for trimming, and one-half yard of silk for undersleeves. The pattern, No. 8161, is cut in sizes for misses twelve, fourteen and sixteen years.

IN WOMAN'S REALM.

Good housekeeping has far more to do with domestic happiness than most young people dream of, and it is a melancholy fact that love is often killed by bad cooking. Without good housekeeping even the most romantic devotion will dwindle and die, and therefore it behooves all maidens to make a study of housewifery before they take upon themselves the duties pertaining to the mistress of a household.

Nowadays, more than ever, perhaps, women need to remember that their best and most beautiful work is to be done in their own homes. Of course the man who marries a woman merely because he wants a lady to sit at the head of his table and to look after his house does not deserve to be happy.

But it is not of such a case as his that I am thinkink. I contemplate rather the case of the married lovers, who, perhaps—by slow degrees, may be, but none the less surely—become alienated by the irritation and friction caused by the wife's failure to govern her household rightly.

A wife should not degenerate into a merely superior sort of maid of all work, but at the same time she should not despise the social, moral and spiritual influence that she may exercise by ruling her household wisely.

No matter what a girl's schoolastic attainments may be her education is incomplete if she has not a practical knowledge of every branch of household work; but equipped with this and adding to it a large amount of tact and sympathy, she may possibly become such an ideal mistress that she may escape the servant worries that are the trials of so many of her friends. Even if the mistress of a house be never required to dust, cook, or mend, she ought to know how everything should be done, that she may be able to direct her servants, for she will never command their respect as an employer if they think that she does not know good work from bad.—Exchange.

NO RIGHT TO UGLINESS

The woman who is lovely in face form and temper will always have friends, but one who would be attractive must keep her health. If she is weak, sickly and run down, she will be nervous and irritable. ABBEY'S MEDICAL TALKS is a bad sign.

The Cause.—An excess of bile which overflows into the stomach.

The Effect.—Headache, Indigestion, Drowsiness, Coated tongue, Bad taste in the mouth.

The Result.—It disturbs the action of the kidneys, stomach, liver, heart, bowels, brain or skin.

The Cure.—ABBEY'S EFFERVESCENT SALT.

A bilious attack is serious. The very sensation of biliousness is nauseating. Abbey's Salt cures, if prevention is too late. It goes at once to the seat of trouble. Abbey's makes the liver active and disposes of the excess of bile. It softens the hard matter left in the bowels, and when this has been done, the biliousness disappears and with it all the dyspeptic nightmares that have tortured you.

If, before the attack you knew Abbey's Salt would have prevented it, its weight in gold would have made it cheap to you.

Sold by most druggists, or sent by mail.

WINE OF CARDUI

THE LINK THAT BINDS.

JACKSON, TENN., Nov. 23.

I was subject to miscarriage for three years, and suffered constantly with backache. I wrote to you for advice, and after using three bottles of Wine of Cardui, according to your directions, I am strong and well, and the mother of a fine girl baby.

Mrs. E. N. JOWERS.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui

There is no use talking—a baby in the house is the link that binds husband and wife together. Nothing is sadder than fruitless wedlock. The prattling and cooing of the little ones offset a thousand times the occasional worries and trials of life. When a wife is barren, there is a derangement somewhere in the genital organs, caused by one or more of those common disorders known as "female troubles". Wine of Cardui is the remedy. It puts the organs of generation in a strong and healthy condition, fitting the wife for the sacred duty of reproducing her kind. During the period of gestation the entire system of the expectant mother is built up to withstand the ordeal of labor, and when the little one makes its advent it is lusty and strong, well-fitted to grow to maturity in perfect health. The mother, too, passes through the trial with little pain and no dread. Wine of Cardui is truly a wonderful medicine for women.

HIS LIFE WAS SAVED.

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with typhoid fever that ran into pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even sit up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die of consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief. I continued to use it and now am well and strong. I can't say too much in its praise." This marvellous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all throat and lung trouble. Regular sizes 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug
